

SurvivorScotland Conference

A national strategy for survivors of childhood sexual abuse

Wednesday 28th February 2007
Airth Castle Hotel, By Falkirk, Stirlingshire

The event will provide an opportunity to build on the power of partnership working and provide information sharing across professions. It will also enable delegates to form strong networks in order to make a real and lasting difference to survivors throughout Scotland.

Conference aims

This one day conference will review the progress of the strategy, which was set up to raise awareness of the long-term effects of childhood sexual abuse, and to improve services for adult survivors. It is an opportunity for you to become involved and contribute to its further development.

It will also highlight interesting work in a range of areas, including;

- New research on survivors and physical health
- Male survivors
- Young homeless women with complex needs
- Commissioning and mainstreaming of services
- Initiatives to prevent sex offending

Who should attend?

This conference will be of particular relevance to:

- Survivors and survivor organisations
- Voluntary organisations, community groups and self help groups
- Health care professionals
- Social workers
- Police and prison staff
- Academic and researchers
- Scottish Executive Departments (including Health, Education, Justice)

Information arena

There will also be an information area, where you can display any of your own organisation's leaflets and collect details on other organisations. Please complete the relevant area on the form to let us know if you wish to bring leaflets along.

A full conference programme will be available in early January 2007.

Visit www.survivorscotland.org.uk for further details on the national strategy.

Conference registration

The conference is free, but a late cancellation fee of £45 will apply should you cancel after 14.2.07. Places are limited and will be allocated on a first come first served basis.
